Mayor Byron Mann resignation official

Mayor Byron Mann formally announced his resignation just before press time Tuesday, saying it has 'been a joy to serve the Town of Elk Point for the past two years.'

Mann said his decision to leave this official act until almost the moment of his final departure for Calgary was in order to allow Town Council to hold or not hold a by-election, since it is less than one year before the next municipal general election, scheduled for October 16, 1989.

'I have put the decision in your hands,' Mann told Town Council at the conclusion of Monday night's organizational meeting. 'You have earned the right to decide whether to call an election or not...and I'm sure you will make the right decision.'

Town, County approve landfill agreement

Approval was given by both the Town of Elk Point and the County of St. Paul last Tuesday to an agreement for joint operation and use of a Sanitary Landfill site south of the North Saskatchewan River.

Town Council gave the bylaw all three readings, after in-depth study of the agreement at a meeting October 4. The Town agreed to purchase 12 acres of land adjacent to the County's landfill site at a cost of $550 per acre, on which the County has already received subdivision approval. This parcel will be combined with the existing site, and will require no additional soil testing to be done.

The Town and County will cost-share excavation of new trenches and backfilling, compaction and covering used trenches on a fifty-fifty basis. The work will be done with County equipment and manpower, with the Town billed for half the cost, based on Alberta Transportation rates. Fencing of the additional area will also be cost shared.

The Town will be responsible for weekly site maintenance costs, while the County will provide maintenances of the access road, including snowplowing in the winter months, and will also be responsible for the reclamation of the site upon the completion of its use.

The agreement is for a five year term, with provision given for renewal terms of five years. The cost-sharing arrangement is to be reviewed annually.

Both municipal bodies were in agreement that areas within the site would be designated for storage and disposal of metal, pesticide and chemical containers, and burnable material such as demolition debris.

The Town has contacted Alberta Environment regarding the reclamation of the present Town Sanitary Landfill, which will be done at the expense of Alberta Environment.

The Town expects to cease use of the present site on October 31.

Other business coming before Council's October 11 meeting included the ratification of John Emery as member-at-large on the Recreation and Cultural Board, and a decision to endorse a Board recommendation to nominate former Recreation and Cultural Board member Holly (Burton) Gerke for an Energize '88 volunteer recognition award.

BEATING THE BEAVERS—The Town's losing battle with the numerous beavers of Atimoswe Creek is being fought with a 1300 gallon per hour pump, which is being used to lift water out of Hook Lake, and crews who work from early morning to late evening to keep the overambitious rodents from trying to dam the flow. The Town is pumping into their reservoir and will continue to do so until the full mark is reached, approximately another week.

Reform Party candidate named

A fourth hat was thrown into the Beaver River federal constituency ring last Wednesday, when over thirty supporters of the Reform Party of Canada met in St. Paul to nominate Deborah Grey of Heinsburg as their candidate in the November 21 federal election. She joins Liberal Ernie Sehn, New Democrat Brian Luther and Progressive Conservative John Dahmer in the contest for the seat which was created when federal ridings were redistributed in 1987.

Ms. Grey, an English teacher at Dewberry High School, is the 37th candidate nominated for the Reform Party to date, out of an expected 61. The party must have 50 candidates to be recognized in the election.

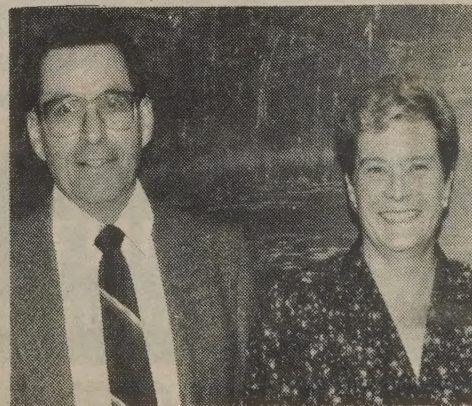

'I'm convinced that the well-oiled Tory machine needs an overhaul,' the new nominee told her cheering supporters, adding that the brand new riding was the ideal place to make a dent in the traditionally all-Progressive Conservative federal representation in Alberta.

'I want to be your voice in Ottawa, not just come here to bring you greetings from Ottawa and to turn the sod on federal projects,' Ms. Grey told the packed crowd, who came from all areas of the far-flung riding for the meeting.

Ms. Grey touched briefly on the beliefs of the Reform Party, which is against separatism: 'The West wants IN to Confederation, not OUT!' and for free trade 'east and west as well as north and south.' She feels the free trade document 'is a good framework with which to begin,' and added that she feels Canada should 'seek to maximize the relationship with the USA.'

The personable young woman, who marks among her achievements the remodelling of an old farmhouse she had moved to her Laurier Lake property, four years as a foster parent, and a membership in the gospel singing group HIS, told the gathering that 'Prairie fires burn from the grassroots. Together, we can write a sequel to 'How The West Was Won!'

REFORM PARTY—Interim Constituency President Tom Holliday congratulates Deborah Grey on her nomination.

Fire department sponsors safety workshop

A fire safety workshop addressing hazards in the home and on the job drew a good crowd to the Elk Point Fire Hall Thursday night, when the Elk Point Volunteer Fire Department brought knowledgeable fire safety experts Glen Laidley and Peter Clark to town.

Both Laidley and Clark have firsthand knowledge of the importance of fire safety. Clark was very seriously burned when the truck he was driving was caught in a propane pipeline explosion in Millwoods, while Laidley was badly injured when a service rig near Edson caught fire. Both men are involved in helping to rehabilitate burn victims into 'burn survivors', Laidley said.

In spite of having the best equipped fire departments and the best response time in the world, North Americans also have the worst fire death rate per capita, Clark told the group, with most of these deaths happening in our homes 'where we have the control.' He added that within the past 10 years, many of those who would have died from burn injuries are now surviving. 'It's time we started doing something.'

Through a slide presentation showing by photographs and diagrams the immense trauma inflicted by burn injuries, a live demonstration of the inflammability of various fabrics, and a film showing how a house can be totally destroyed by fire in only a few minutes, the pair impressed upon their audience the definite need for fire prevention measures.

Hazards in the home and in the oil industry are often easily eradicated, the group was told. Such measures as turning pot handles inward on the stove, keeping coffee pot cords out of the reach of small children, turning down your water heater to 120 degrees, and emptying ashtrays into a fireproof container, can prevent tragedy. Equally simple means of eliminating the fire hazards in the oil patch could save countless lives.

Members of the fire department, ambulance workers, oil workers and other district residents were on hand for the seminar.

Elk Point and District Further Education news

By Gladys Drobot
Co-ordinator

Registration for courses is very slow this fall and will probably stay that way as long as the weather is nice and there are things to do outside. Another factor probably is that our catalogue is late.

Tuesday, October 25 will see the beginning of AEROBICS...if anyone registers! I have only received one call about when aerobics is to start. If we do not have 8 people registered we will not have an Aerobics class. Classes are to be Tuesday and Thursday from 8:00 to 9:00 at the F. G. Miller High School gym. Fees are $50.00 for 50 sessions. Because our catalogues have been held up at the printers we will take registration up to 7:00 p.m. October 20 for Aerobics.

FUN AND FITNESS FOR SENIORS doesn't have anyone registered either. Classes start at the Pioneer Circle, Monday, October 24; Buckingham House, Tuesday, October 25; Heritage Lodge, Wednesday, October 26. Sessions go from 10:00 to 11:00 a.m. Seniors over 65 do not pay any fees. You MUST register by October 18 by phoning 724-4101, or if you are under 65, by sending a cheque made out to 'Further Education Council' to Elk Point and District Further Education Council, General Delivery, Elk Point, Alberta, T0A 1A0 or call in at the office Tuesday and Thursday from 1:00 to 7:00 p.m., Wednesday from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m.

ENGLISH AS A SECOND LANGUAGE is being taught by Ron Onusko. Please contact Ron at 724-3679 after 4:00 P.M. for more information or phone this office at 724-4101.

October 29 we will have a SILK SCARF DYEING session from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. at the F.G. Miller Home Ec. room. Fees are $7. A material fee of $10.00 to $15.00 payable to Lily McCool will be charged for other materials necessary for this course. Please bring Q-tips and paint brushes of various sizes; coarse salt of different textures; one spray bottle for water and if you have one, bring a hair dryer.

OIL PAINTING with Ralph Kryvenchuk goes on Thursdays from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m. NEW STUDENTS COME NOVEMBER 3 FROM 7:00 to 8:00 p.m. for orientation. Classes start November 10 at F.G. Miller High School. Fees are $19.00 plus your materials.

Saturday, November 12 from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m. Millie Orr will take you through an interesting session on FLORAL ARRANGING. This takes place in the Home Ec. room at F.G. Miller High School. Fees are $4.00. A materials fee of between $30.00 and $40.00 is payable to Millie.

The following Saturday, November 19, Evelyn Kowtun will be back with her CHRISTMAS CRAFT session from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. This too will be in the Home Ec. room. Fees are $6.00. Material cost of $35.00 to $40.00 are payable to Evelyn.

FINANCIAL PLANNING AND CREDIT FOR WOMEN is a one evening session from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. on Tuesday, November 22 with Monica King, DHE from St. Paul. Fee $2.00.

Town Council news

Council tabled consideration of the Alberta Urban Municipalities Association insurance program trust fund indefinitely.

Councillors Alvina Schuhmacher and Allan Frankiw, who attended the AUMA Convention in Edmonton, reported on the workshops they had attended, with topics ranging from managing conflict to successful communication.

Council members were given a firsthand look at the Town's computerized bookkeeping systems, with Administrator Pat Vincent demonstrating the various functions.

Early consideration was given to Halloween trick-and-treating hours, with 4:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. set for the annual pilgrimage on Monday, October 31.

Special meeting for Pioneer Circle

By Irene Magnusson

A special meeting for members and prospective members of the Elk Point Pioneer Circle Seniors group was called for Friday, October 14, at the hall, to hear a report from Member of the Legislature John Drobot on what help the group could expect from the Alberta Government with their building plans.

Mr. Drobot arrived at 1:30 p.m., and immediately Mike Palinka, President, opened the meeting, and invited Mr. Drobot to give his report.

Mr. Drobot explained that a matching grant could be applied for by the group, up to a maximum of $250,000, available over a period of 3 years, and the application would be considered by an impartial group, and a decision made as to whether to grant it. (Other projects might be more needy or more worthy.)

Since the money available is acquired strictly from sale of lottery tickets, it has a set purpose, and can only be used for that purpose.

Mr. Drobot suggested that the Society set up a committee to investigate the feasibility of building a new hall, or remodeling the old one, or perhaps joining with another plan, such as a Town recreation centre, with a part for seniors joined on. This idea should be considered, he suggested, as it may be economically desirable.

Grace Barwick, secretary to the Pioneer Circle, read from a set of plans obtained from visiting other centres, which described what a well-planned centre might contain.

The group then formed a committee, to investigate plans and costs and possibilities of funding. Nothing much is likely to be accomplished before the regular meeting, set for the second Tuesday of November, the 8th, when a progress report will be forthcoming.

'I am not here to sell you anything,' Drobot said, 'But it can be done,' referring to the doubts some had of raising such a sum of money as will be required. There were suggestions of acquiring a loan for any money not donated or raised, as well, labor can be counted as part of the matching funds.

A large crowd filled the hall, showing up the need for expansion, if it wasn't known already. This included the current PC candidate for Member of Parliament, John Dahmer, although he didn't speak to the group.

Sid Holthe was able to clarify a few points, and offered his services in other capacities, not on the committee, such as revising the by-laws later on.

At present there is a need for more members, so if you haven't paid your dues, now would be a good time to do so, and invite your neighbors to do likewise. And if you are a younger person, remember you will be a senior someday, and be generous in offering a helping hand.

NOTICE OF OPEN HOUSE

Lindbergh/Elk Point Area
Well Completion Requirements

The Energy Resources Conservation Board has received numerous applications from operators in the Lindbergh/Elk Point area for reductions in surface casing requirements for oil wells drilled in that area. A committee consisting of representatives from the ERCB, Alberta Environment, and major operators in the area was subsequently formed to consider the matter on a field-wide basis. The main purpose of the committee was to evaluate both the need for and the effectiveness of surface casing for wells drilled in the area and alternatives to surface casing to ensure well control and the protection of groundwater resources.

The committee has scheduled an open house from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. on the evening of 26 October 1988 to be held at the King George Community Hall in Elk Point. The Open House will consist of informal discussions as well as a presentation of the findings of the committee. The agenda for the evening is as follows:

7:30 - 8:00 p.m.: Floor displays and informal discussions with committee members
8:00 - 8:30 p.m.: Introduction and presentation of the findings of the committee, followed by a question period
8:30 - 8:45 p.m.: Refreshments
8:45 - 9:30 p.m.: Continuation of question period

The intent of the open house is to communicate the findings of the committee to the general public, and to receive input from those interested parties.

A summary of the findings of the committee or copies of the detailed report are available to interested persons through the Elk Point Library, or through the ERCB at

Goodbye Byron

This week, Elk Point bids goodbye to its mayor of two years, Byron Mann, who has returned to his home turf of Calgary in answer to the needs of his employers, Westmin Resources.

It has no doubt been an interesting two years for Mann and his family, as they became involved in Elk Point's business, political and social scene, and learned about the small town way of life.

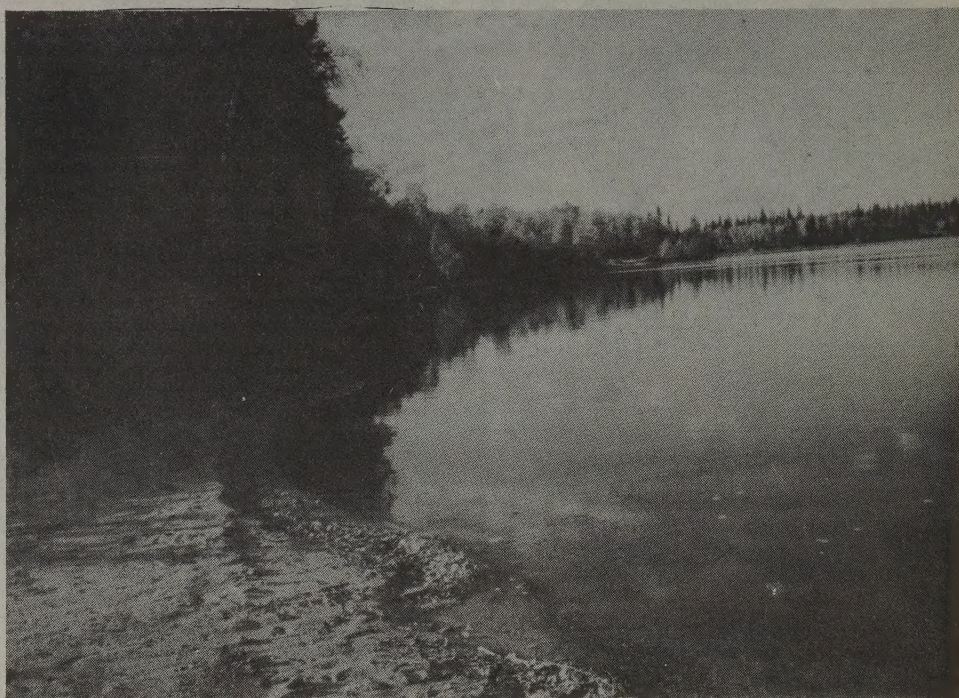

Mann has conducted the Town's business fairly and with competence, and has added such innovations as the Town flag, and city-style ball diamonds to our way of life. He has been with us through the Mural project, and has taken part in our first-ever trade fair. He has, in his short time at the helm, seen Town Office enter the computer age, and has seen numerous projects completed, and others such as the proposed development of the fur trading forts, begun.

In leaving at this particular time, he has even left Town Council a choice of whether to carry on with a five member council, or whether to call an election. As he said, these are the people who have to live with that decision, not him, so they should make it. We are confident they will make a wise decision.

The Lakeland Review would like to extend best wishes to the Manns on their new endeavors, and to thank the ex-mayor for his courteous treatment of the press at Council meetings, which we have heard is a rare thing among municipal governments. (Although, in Elk Point, we have always enjoyed a good relationship with Council.)

Goodbye, Byron, June and son, and give our regards to Calgary.

THE BEAUTIES OF AUTUMN — Drew at least one person to the lakes and parks not far away. Whitney is a small lake, and perhaps not seething with fish, but it certainly has a fair share of beauty, as shown by this October 2 view. Wish you could see it in color. I. Magnusson

Alberta Trails

Birds gone - leaves down

By Irene Magnusson

October will be more than half gone, when you read this—but as I am writing, it has but begun. There have been halcyon days of sunbright splendor, when all the world seemed bathed in gold, warm, lazy days, of blue skies, few clouds and soft summery breezes. Nights, too, have been worth noting, with stars and planets scintillatingly clear.

Did any of you notice the morning of October 7, at about 6:30 a.m., in the eastern sky? There was the tiny, thin moon, arms upthrust, slightly to southward, above it the glistening sparkle of Venus, and directly in line above that, the star called Regulus, all quite close together and in a neat line-up. Other planets showing off this month are Mars and Jupiter—the brightest ones—and a number of others, too. One evening we saw a fringe or two of Northern Lights, nothing too spectacular.

I sincerely hope the good weather we have been blessed with in early October has allowed all the farmers to harvest all their crops, and that they have not been found wanting in the bins. The garden produce—at least any I've heard of—has been abundant and very good.

Cabbages and carrots have outdone themselves, and who knows who grew the biggest potato?! And the pumpkins should do Halloween proud this coming 31st.

Thanksgiving is so much earlier in Canada than in the USA, that it almost seems like a different holiday, when their magazines—such as the 'Ideals'—issue their Thanksgiving copy AFTER their Halloween number. This is a magazine teeming with beautiful nature pictures and stories and poems, mostly dealing with some certain season of the year, one of them being Thanksgiving. My mother received this lovely publication for many years, gift of one of her relatives, and she shared them with me. They are the type of magazine you never throw away, but rather pass along to someone you care for, to share.

I've heard on the News that some canola crushing plant may close down—or at least lay off staff—due to a lack of canola to crush. This seems hard to believe, when there are so many fields of brilliant gold along the ways, especially in the Peace River area, but I guess it takes an awful lot of it to keep the crushers going wide open. I saw this little item in the Alberta Pool Budget, and, since I don't suppose you are all members of the Alberta Wheat pool, and may not see this item, I'll repeat it here for you.

It would seem a number of large Canadian newspapers are trying out a new ink, this one made with Canola oil (well, 60 percent), and they are finding it to be brighter, with clearer colors, and doesn't rub off onto your hands so much. They also consider the ink as biodegradable.

They rejoice that this discovery is also helping the western farmers. They estimated that a paper the size of the Ottawa Citizen uses 700 litres of ink daily (that's 154 Imperial gallons) so the potential, if every paper went for it, is quite huge.

This ink, the article says, is manufactured by Reiger Printing Ink of Downsview, Ontario...another bet the West seems to have overlooked.

I, for one, have long wondered what newspaper ink was made of, and have not been able to find out from any of my many books, or from any of my high school and university-graduated descendants. My own guess was they combined used motor oil with chimney soot and perhaps some tar (to make it stick well). They may add a bit of coal dust, too. And your hands and clothes and table covers show this, by the time you've gone through the weekly and/or daily papers. So perhaps the canola oil ink will be a blessing to the readers, as well as the printers.

I also came across these bits of information, which may amuse you, as they did me. Fifty years ago, waaaaay back in 1938 (when I had already been married four years, and had three kids), why, that was the year they invented ballpoint pens! Vitamin E and, Cortisone were discovered in that year, also, as was the miracle fiber, Nylon. I even remember the awe with which this stuff was described. The terrific strength of a nylon rope, which could hold more weight (the size of a pencil) than a two-inch hemp rope could, and the lovely silky materials, from which soil could easily be washed 'off', as opposed to washed 'out' as was done with cotton and wool.

Teflon, the magic no-stick coating for pots and pans, saw the light of day in 1938, while the Xerox machine and fluorescent lighting were offered to delighted customers in that same year. Photocopiers are everywhere now, and carry many names, but the good old Xerox is still with us, reconstructed, renovated and made many times smaller and more efficient—but still doing the same job, making copies of important and unimportant papers, helping us in our daily tasks.

Superman, who seems to have lived forever, doing deeds of daring do, leaping from phone booths, to clear tall buildings in a single bound, blue cape flaring, as he rescues the good from the clutches of evil, Superman, the hero of the ages, was first introduced to our eager ears and eyes just fifty years ago.

Last but not least, of this group of half-century old inventions, we have spray-dried instant coffee, the miracle that 'makes their day' for many harried hurried morning people who can't find the time to wait for the percolator or the dripolator, but who will wilt away without their morning coffee.

Personally, the most important item in the list to me, is the ballpoint pen. I surely did hate those drippy, bladder-fill fountain pens, and worse yet, the dip pens. Ugh!!

We probably all have a few friends such as this, and should do all we can to preserve their love and trust. I know I need my friends, always.

*Never lose an old friend
No matter what the cause
We wouldn't ever do it
If we didn't look for flaws;
The one thing worthwhile having
Is the friend who stands the test
And who has one friend such as this Knows friendship at its best.*

ADULT CLASS IN UKRAINIAN DANCE PLANNED

By Margaret Bayduza

This year the Elk Point and District Ukrainian Dance Club is offering an adult beginner's Ukrainian dance class. It is open to anyone 18 years old or over. It will be instructed by Ken Rylance. Anyone interested in the class is invited to come to our first adult lesson to find out what the class involves. The first lesson will be on Tuesday, November 1 at 7:30 p.m. in the Elk Point Elementary School gym. We hope to see many adults turn out. For more information on the class, please phone Nellie at 724-2446.

OORP news

Elk Point Order of Royal Purple will once again donate an award at the F. G. Miller High School Awards Night.

The OORP and Elks lodges will be travelling to Marwayne on November 5 to attend a dine and dance honoring Supreme Honored Royal Lady Margaret Nelson, who is a member of Marwayne OORP.

Thanks to all who donated to the OORP's Arthritis Society canvass. A total of $765 has been collected to date.

The OORP accompanied District Deputy Mary Bochon to St. Paul on October 13 to meet Supreme Honored Royal Lady Margaret Nelson. On October 19, they will accompany DD Bochon to Myrnam with the Travelling Gavel, and on October 26, on her visit to the Two Hills OORP meeting.

Don't forget the OORP Flea Market on November 19. Table rentals are available from Lois, phone 724-2095 evenings, or Zenovia, phone 724-4282.

The Elks lodge is planning a New Years Eve Dine and Dance, with the OORP catering for this event.

WHAT'S NEWS at the Library

Storytime featured the puppet show 'The Three Billy Goats Gruff.' The ugly troll had his job cut out for him when he tried to eat the three billy goats, but he ended up in the river. Justice was done! Seventeen preschoolers were in attendance.

The library has received a large donation of children's books from the Briggs family. We have also received 36 books of the 'Cheerleaders Series,' plus other teenage selections from Norma Lorenson. Thank you very much! Donations are always appreciated, and they help to extend our book budget.

NEW BOOKS

Four board books by Harriet Ziefert have been added to the children's section. These books are: 'Where's the Dog?', 'Where's the Turtle?', 'Where's the Guinea Pig?' and 'Where's the Cat?'

TEENS! The library has received two new music cassettes and they are 'Crowded House and BLVD.' Please put your suggestions for new music cassette purchases on the list at the circulation desk.

LARGE PRINT READERS! Twenty nine new large print books from the Northeast Library Project have arrived. These will be in our library for six months!

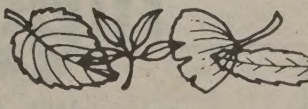

NON-FICTION-The Complete Guide to Your Emotions and Your Health by Emrika Padus-Get happy, get healthy and boost your natural healing potential by reading this informative book.

Peeling Ceiling: 500 More Household Hints You Wanted to Know by Harris Mitchell-Save hundreds of dollars and a lot of headaches with this brand new collection of practical home repair and improvement tips. If you have wondered why walls weep, faucets shriek and driveways heave, check out this book for the answer.

FICTION-ADULT-

Something Wonderful by Judith McNaught-As mistress of her mother's sadly run down estate in early 19th century England, Alexandra Lawrence has few prospects for a wealthy marriage...until she becomes involved with two different men.

CARD OF THANKS

Vincent and Olga Lawrence, their Sons and Families would like to thank all their friends and relatives for making their "40th Wedding Anniversary" a very special occasion.

Thank you to everyone who helped with the preparations, working the bar, help in the kitchen and clean-up.

A special thank-you to Doreen Youngmans and Walter Saranchuk for supplying the music. Also thanks once more to Walter Saranchuk for being Master of Ceremonies.

THANK YOU ALL

Clandonald junior high awards

By Shirley Osinchuk

The annual Awards Night programme at Clandonald School was held on Thursday, October 13. This is the time to honor awards winners for the 1987-88 school year.

The Grades 3 to 6 students led in the singing of O Canada, then entertained with two more numbers.

Principal Doreen Parke introduced the newly elected Students' Council: President Sarah Osinchuk, Vice President Shawn Minish, Secretary Carie Braithwaite, Treasurer Melanie Trach, Grade 7 Rep Darren DeFord, Grade 8 Rep Brent Martin and Grade 9 Rep Donna DeFord.

Sarah Osinchuk was the MC for the evening. The winners of the Highest Academic Standing awards were: Carolyn Thomas for Grade 7, with runner-up Brent Martin. The Frank's Shell trophy was presented by Frank Molineux. Shawna Kiziak was the Grade 8 winner, and Sarah Osinchuk was runner-up. Sharon Convey presented the Clandonald Hardware trophy for Stan and Eleanor Stafford. Catherine Martin was the Grade 9 winner with Susan Thomas runner-up. Dever DeFord presented the Knights of Columbus award to Catherine.

At this point, the Grades 1 and 2 presented a humorous poem entitled 'Sick?'

The General Proficiency awards, to students who had worked to the best of their ability, had a positive attitude toward school, teachers and fellow students, and strived to succeed in all aspects of school life, were won by: Brent Martin for Grade 7, with Mark Cusack runner-up. Lubie Parchewsky presented the Lakeland Glass trophy.

Amanda Cusack was the Grade 8 winner, with Melanie Trach runner-up. Ken Lawrence presented the Ken's Service trophy. Eugene DeFord presented the D & E DeFord trophy to Diane Bardeol for Grade 9. Angie Nelson was runner-up.

Jason Trach was the Most Improved Student, and Shelley Moosomin was runner-up. Herb Protsch presented the Clandonald Seed Cleaning Plant trophy to Jason.

A cultural break was presented by the Grade 7 and 8 Drama Class, who performed 'Rumpelstiltskin'.

The last trophy was a new one in memory of Mrs. Martha Osinchuk who taught for many years in the community. It was presented to Marie Lawrence for highest marks in French throughout the Junior High years. Katherine Martin was the runner-up. Richard Osinchuk made the presentation to Marie.

Clarence 'Jiggs' Goldsmith, Reeve of the County of Vermilion River, presented the County Honor Pins, for an 80 percent average in the five core subjects and two complimentary courses to: Carolyn Thomas for Grade 7, Shauna Kiziak, Sarah Osinchuk and Melanie Trach for Grade 8, and Marie Lawrence, Katherine Martin, Angie Nelson, Kim Rewuski and Susan Thomas for Grade 9.

That concluded the awards. Congratulations on your hard work.

The Kindergarten parents made the draw for winners of their raffle. The winners were: Monique Garnier-hamper from Elk Point Co-op; Herb Rathwell-hamper from Vermilion Co-op; Daryl Luchynski-hamper from Vinet's; Ken Monweiler-hamper from Vermilion IGA; Sharon Finkenhagen-hamper from Dewberry Co-op; Lora Cusack-clock radio from Clandonald Hardware; Angie Carter-glue gun from Vermilion Co-op Hardware; L. Parchewsky-blanket from Kindergarten; Mabel Garnier-shirt from Macleods.

Clandonald gun range opens

By Shirley Osinchuk

It was a year in the making, and many years in the thinking. On Sunday afternoon, Oct. 9, Mrs. Eileen Garnier cut the ribbon to officially open the Clandonald Fish and Game Gun Range. She donated the property and sign in memory of her late husband, Louis Garnier, who was a founding member of the Clandonald Fish and Game, and an active supporter all his life.

The seventeen acre piece of land is about five and a half miles northwest of Clandonald, in a hollow, sheltered by low hills. The land was a Molineux homestead, most recently owned by Pete Matyaschuk.

The County of Vermilion River contributed, along with Dome, D. and E. DeFord and hired trucks, to improve and oil the road and parking lot.

Fish and Game members and members of the RCMP use the gun range. There are three sections, for hand guns, rifles and trap shooting. The aim of the Fish and Game Association, besides for the pleasure and increasing the skill of members, is to interest young people in target shooting and the safe use of firearms. Art Lawrence, Eugene DeFord and Alex Kurash are currently the Gun Range Committee.

Elk Point and District Light Horse association hosts rally

By Mildred Dunham

Elk Point and District Light Horse Association hosted 68 riders at their fall Poker Rally, held Sunday, October 2 at the Windsor Club, Lindbergh.

The high hand was collected by Connie Capjack, with a straight. She won two halters with shanks donated by Welsh's Saddlery, Edmonton, and a gift certificate from Carter's Western Wear, Vegreville.

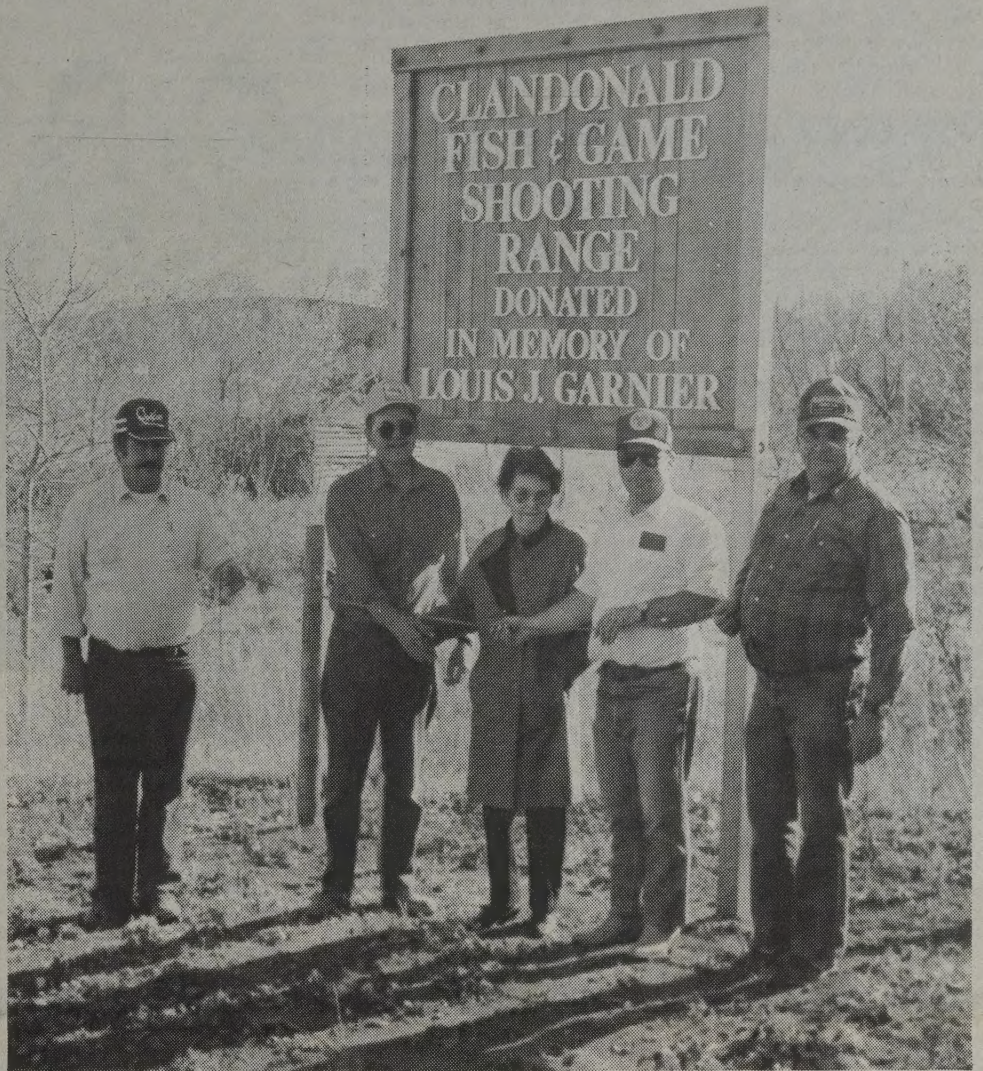

Second prize went to Trevor Golden, who collected three of a kind (6s). His prize was a head stall donated by Vic Bennett Saddles, Edmonton, a set of lines from Ken and Kathy Foster, a halter and shank from Sunshine Bus Lines and a gift certificate from the Horseman's Saddle Shop, Edmonton.

Jenny Scott, who placed third with pairs of aces and 3s, won a bridle donated by Vermilion Upholstery and Leather Shop and a halter from Wesel's Department Store in Mannville. Lost Six Industries also donated to the rally.

Bruce Quinney held the low hand of the rally. The youngest participant was 4-year-old Tanya Blacklock, while the oldest was Walter Piotrowski, age 71. Ervin Currie of Viking came the furthest to the rally, while others travelled from Lloydminster, Onion Lake, Bonnyville and St. Paul for the day.

The Light Horse Association would like to thank all those who donated for their contribution toward the successful rally.

Art Lawrence, Pete Matyaschuk, donor Eileen Garnier, Alex Kurash and Eugene DeFord.

POKER RALLY WINNERS—(l-r) were Trevor Golden, Tanya Blacklock, Jenny Scott, Ervin Currie, Walter Piotrowski and Connie Capjack.

Babe Sharkey - 40 years of bussing

By Shirley Osinchuk

On Saturday, October 15, Colleen and Vernon Sharkey entertained relatives, friends, customers and employees with a turkey supper with all the trimmings in the Heinsburg Hall. There were 250 to 260 well-wishers filling the hall, all of them there to celebrate 40 years of school bus service.

In 1948, Babe (only occasionally known as Vernon) started driving a school bus for his father. Four years later, his parents gave him his first bus, as a wedding present. Since then he has owned and driven buses in the Heinsburg, Fishing Lake, Frog lake and Elk Point districts. His wife Colleen has driven for the last eighteen years, fifteen of them on the Fishing Lake to Heinsburg route. They also had cattle trucks and a charter bus service for many years.

Their son Rocky and his wife Joanne are now partners, and Babe hopes they will carry on the family business, which has become a tradition.

All their immediate family were present: son Rocky and wife Joanne, and sons Jamie, Aaron and Dustin; and daughter Lora and her husband Gary Meiklejohn, and family, Tarelle, Travis and Tiana. Pat Good and family from Edmonton, and Lawrence and Olga Sharkey were also able to attend.

Babe was the MC for the evening, telling the humorous things that had happened over the years, and justly proud of the fact that there had never been any serious accidents on the bus runs.

There were several presentations of plaques to Babe and Colleen, including ones from friends, relatives, the village of Heinsburg, the County of St. Paul Board of Education, UFA, Spaid Automotive and a telegram from their niece Marlene Fuduric and family in Australia, roses from their six grandchildren, a gift from the school staff, an old wrench from an anonymous former bus driver, and a gift certificate for a night at the Fantasyland Hotel from their children.

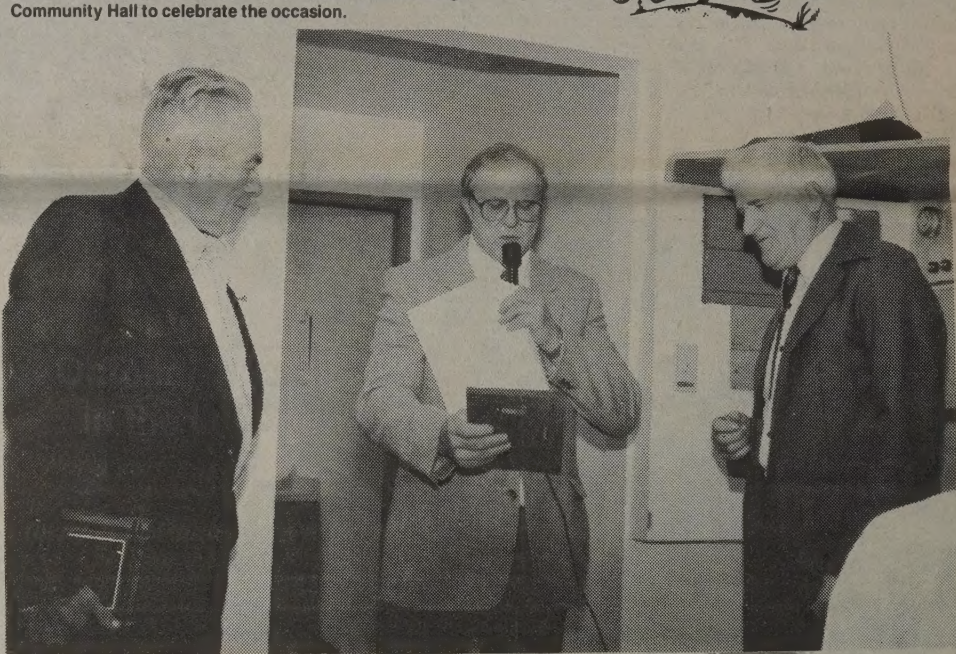

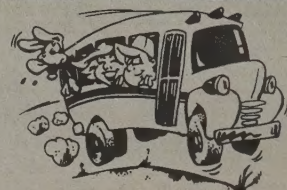

Babe and Colleen presented plaques to two retired bus drivers, Lief Pynton and Chester Botting. A large group of drivers from over the forty years was present, with only six missing.

Grace Meeker enlisted Yvonne Quickstad to sing a song she had written for the occasion, and Karak Hendriks also sang a song he had written with the help of his great-grandmother, Mrs. Bertha Botting. One of Grace's comments on Babe's life was that one of the things that makes his eyes light up is expectant mothers along the bus route.

Babe picked up his fiddle and joined some friends and relatives on stage to play for old-time dancing, and the fun went on.

Super spuds

It's been a good year for potatoes, as students in Orest Sereda's Grade 6B class at Elk Point Elementary School will attest.

From September 13 until last Friday, October 14, Sereda's students searched their families' potato patches with enthusiasm, looking for that spectacular specimen of tuber which would be the winner in their Super Spud Contest.

Students could bring their own, a relative's or a friend's potatoes in to the contest. Each entry was weighed as it came in, with the weights kept confidential until the final day.

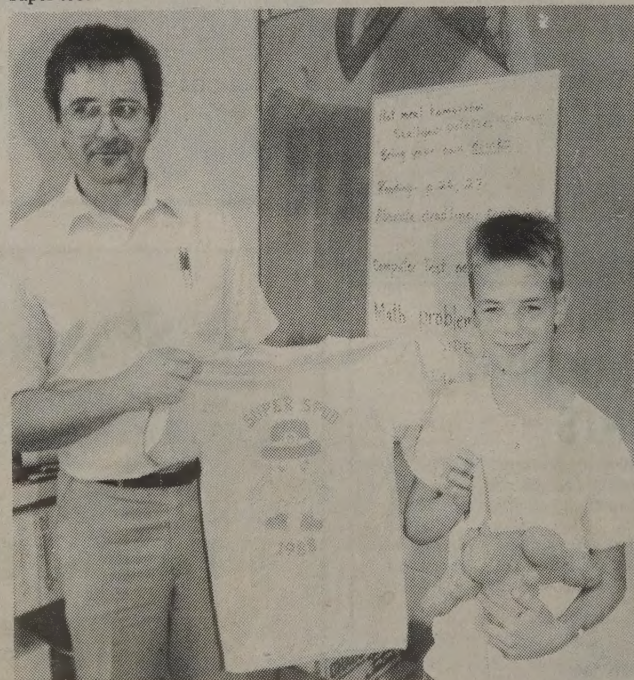

Twelve students entered one or more potatoes in the contest, with four of the entries coming in at over 3 pounds.

The overall winner was Travis Pankiw, whose gigantic multi-lobed specimen tipped the scales at 1597 grams, or 3.52 pounds. Travis was awarded a t-shirt adorned with a 'Super Spud' graphic created by Donna Dahmer.

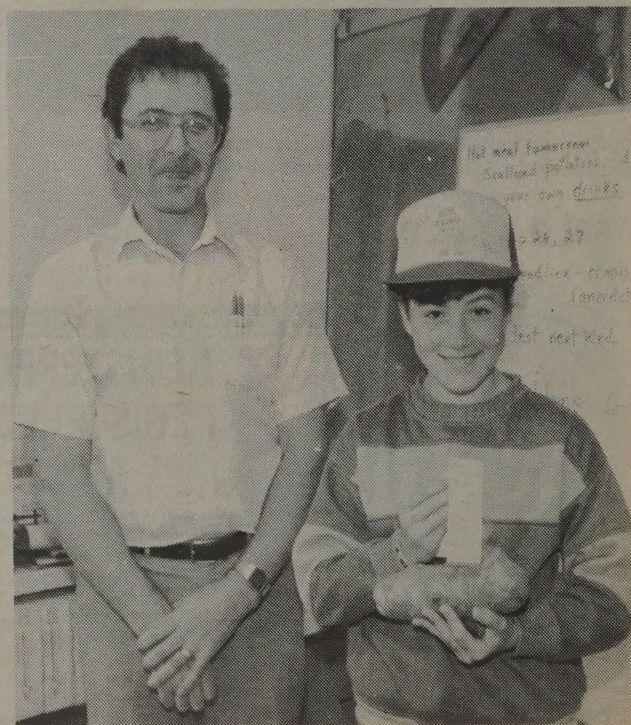

Coming in second was Jan McClellan with a 1426 gram (3.144 pound) potato, winning a 'Super Spud' cap. Jan edged out Daniel Peterson's entry by a single gram of weight.

The end of the contest was celebrated with a potato-based banquet, featuring 'Shipwreck Casserole' and Scalloped Potatoes, prepared by Mrs. Sereda for her husband's class and special guests, Principal Don Conrad, local artist and ECS teacher Donna Dahmer, and your very appreciative reporter...and those 'spuds' were super too!

SUPER SPUD GROWER--Travis Pankiw proudly displays his 1597 gram potato as teacher Orest Sereda presents the first prize of a Super Spud t-shirt.

RUNNER-UP--Jan McClellan exhibited a 1426 gram potato, which earned her a Super Spud cap, presented by Mr. Sereda.

Personal development day - a big success

A capacity crowd of women enjoyed a full day of rest, relaxation and rejuvenation at the Elk Point FCSS Personal Development Day for Women last Saturday at the Empress Banquet Room.

Following a warm welcome from FCSS Director Marnie McCowan, the day got off to a start with an address by Colleen McDougal, Family Life Programmer at the North East Alberta Health Unit, who took a look at women's sexuality through the ages since the first cavewomen, punctuated with a series of hilarious cartoon slides. 'Have we really gotten it together now?' was her searching question at the conclusion of her talk.

Satiny nightwear, form-fitting exercise wear, and fashionable knits from the Beauty Centre, and a handsome collection of knitwear for all occasions from Tops'n'Trends were modelled by local ladies, with commentary by Terry Hebblethwaite and Daphne Schnurer.

Denise Kissel then took the podium to tell those present how to look great through fitness and good nutrition. Fat, sugar and salt were noted as the enemies in our diets, and Ms. Kissel urged the modification of one's existing diet rather than 'cutting out everything you like' which could make you feel deprived and on edge. Fitness, she noted, is 'feeling good...and liking yourself the way you are.'

Following a buffet luncheon, the day continued with makeovers, more fashions, and more interesting speakers.

Terry Hebblethwaite demonstrated the use of her line of Merle Norman Cosmetics while Michelle Metz of Single Styles took up comb and curling iron to give Tracey Martin, Muriel Holthe and Monique Penz a fresh, new look.

Shirley Harms of Woody's Trophy and Gifts showed the latest trend in special occasion decorations for all occasions, with a variety of balloon bouquets and decorator balloons. Millie Orr, owner of Millie's Flowers and Crafts, gave a number of helpful tips regarding the care of cut flowers and house plants.

Myrna Reinhart showed the latest line of Leigh Morgan Fashions, coordinated by color and fabric in classic designs and with unique accessories adding an extra touch. Helen Marceniuk's line of 5th Avenue Jewellery was displayed by several lovely models, while Holly Astill told the ladies about the Lioness Trip of the Month Club.

Side displays showed interior decorating ideas by Myrna Golden, a beautiful floral painting by Susan Lett, and Mexican silver jewellery exhibited by Carolina Mayner.

The highlight of the day was a showing of bridal wear from eight decades and several countries, from Europe of 1908 to today's latest style from: Paula Christy's in St. Paul, Marnie McCowan in a mother-of-the-bride costume from 1908, Doris Ludlage in an engagement dress of 1928, Edith Mitchell in a 1910 wedding gown with shoes from before the turn of the century, Jayme Pelech in Mrs. Mitchell's wedding gown from 1942, Elizabeth Ludlage in Denise Kissel's mother's gown from 1954, Katherine Ludlage in her mother's gown from 1968, Charlene Baker in Mrs. Mitchell's daughter's gown from 1966, Denise Kissel in her own gown, 1981, Carolina Mayner in her gown, Mexico, 1984, Trish Ference wearing her gown from this past summer, and Katherine McCowan as the bride of the future in the latest style from Paula Christy's, were escorted in by RCMP officer Fred Ridding in red serge. Doug Huskins, also in red serge, joined Millie Orr in giving the commentary on the gowns and floral arrangements, which were created by Millie to the style of each decade represented.

And then, the final bride: also escorted by Ridding, Debbielou Huskins was attended by her two small daughters, who carried the train of her 1976 gown as she walked up the aisle to meet her groom of exactly 12 years. Millie presented a sheaf of red carnations and one yellow rose, while Marnie McCowan produced champagne for the anniversary couple to toast the happy occasion.

In closing, Ms. McCowan offered special thanks to the FCSS staff, Lynn Proskiw and Carolina Mayner, and the day's coordinators, Christy Boulter, Terry Hebblethwaite and Denise Kissel, as well as to the models and other participants.

Door prize winners were: Carol

TOASTING TWELVE YEARS—Cst. Doug Huskins and his lovely wife Debbielou were the stars of the Bridal Fashions segment of the FCSS Personal Development Day, as they celebrated their twelfth anniversary. Daughter Lindsay looks on approvingly, while daughter Laura is out of camera range at right.

LADY OF FASHION, CIRCA 1908—FCSS Director Marnie McCowan wears a 1908 mother-of-the-bride costume from Europe, as she is escorted down the aisle by Cst. Fred Ridding in the Bridal Fashion Show.
